Excerpt from A History of Slavery in Cuba: 1511 to 1868

I have selected my authorities on their merits as accurate writers. A large part of my material is in the Spanish language, and the great mass of it is from the reports of men on the ground and of those who were closely identified with the affairs of the island. In cases of wide generalisation or of a purely subsidiary nature only have I relied upon secondary writers. I have been able to use many libraries in the United States, the Biblioteca Nacional at Habana, the British Museum at London, the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris, the Biblioteca Nacional at Madrid, and the Archivos de Indias at Sevilla.

I wish to thank many of my friends for the encouragement that they have given me during the progress of this work; particularly Mr. Sanford B. Martin A.B., LL.B., M.L., who read the manuscript and made many welcome suggestions.
